Fun Fact:

I own 5 rescue dogs (4 pugs and 1 chihuahua).

Our Classroom Values

We Never Stop Improving

We lend an ear to both praise and feedback to deliver our best work. This process is a journey and not a destination.

We Bring a Can-Do Attitude

We confront challenges with enthusiasm and figure things out. We value effort, Commitment, learning, and an attitude toward growth.

We Only Succeed Together

Teamwork is critical to our success, and we place a tremendous value on how we work together across the entire cohort.

We Respect the Rights, Differences, and Dignity of Others

We want to create a learning space where people can bring their full selves. In order to do this we must all respect the diversity of our experiences and how it contributes to our learning.

SUPPORT STRATEGIES

You are responsible for your success, but you're not alone!

Minimum Completion Requirements:

- Miss no more than 8 classes
- Have no more than 2 missing assignments
(incomplete assignments do not count towards graduation)
- Participate in all projects
- Balance paid in full prior to the end of class (add/drop is the first week of class, missed payments can lead to academic hold)

Keys to Success

Use the available support tools (BCS Announcement)

Make a study schedule

Be original (Tips to Avoid Plagiarism)

Depend on each other

Be Original!

Use Your Own Designs

During the boot camp, you may look at other people's work for design inspiration. While you might use the same color palettes, typefaces, or assets, it is not acceptable to copy the entire visual composition of someone else's work. Make it your own.

Comment Your Code

Use comments to break down how your code functions. Thoughtfully commenting on code will benefit you in a variety of ways. Most industries that involve coding consider having easy-to-read code with comments that detail functionality a best practice. This makes it easier for collaborators to engage easily with the work.

Commit to GitHub Early and Often

Whenever you complete a step or fix a bug, commit your code to GitHub. This provides you and your instructional staff a visible way to track the evolution of your code, bit by bit. Frequent commitment to GitHub is also a standard in the industry that helps prevent impediments with collaboration.

Additional Resources

Remember: copying someone else's work and passing it off as your own, violates an ethical code among you, your fellow students, and the original creator of the work. Learn more in Module 7 of your pre-work.

Student Registration (Required)

Step 1:

If you have not already, create an Attendee Account at <https://pe.gatech.edu/user/register>. Write down your login information.

**The name you register with is the name that will be printed on the final certificate.

The screenshot shows the 'Create Attendee Account' form on the Georgia Tech Professional Education website. The form requires the user to enter their email address, verify it, choose a password, and confirm it. There are also fields for password strength and password match. A note at the bottom of the form states: 'Provide a password for the new account in both fields.'
